

For Immediate Release: July 19, 2024

PRESS-RELEASE

Industry professionals, Academic Faculty & Researchers to learn tips on ensuring greater in Oil Industry from experts of Oil Industry Safety Directorate (OISD); Directorate General of Mines Safety (DGMS) and Industry Veterans during the two day workshop at Delhi Centre of IIT (ISM) on August 8-9, 2024.

Department of Petroleum Engineering of IIT (ISM) in association with Oil Industry Safety Directorate (OISD), MoPNG, Govt. of India will organize a two day workshop on Safety in Oil Industry on August 8-9, 2024 at its Industry Institute Interaction Facility, located in NBCC Building, Okhla, Phase 1, Delhi.

The workshop being organized with the objective of enhancing knowledge about safety in oil and gas Industry; ensuring regulatory compliances; sharing best practices; risk assessment and management; emergency preparedness; fostering a safety culture; developing networking and collaboration, will be attended by individuals from Industry working offshore as well as onshore besides academic faculty and researchers of different field.

Neetish Maurya, an Assistant Professor of the Department of Petroleum Engineering of IIT (ISM) who is one of coordinator of workshop said, "The knowledge gained by the participants during the workshop through valuable tips given by experts of Mines Regulatory Body, Directorate General of Mines Safety (DGMS); Oil Industry Safety Directorate (OISD), MoPNG; IIT (ISM) and senior officials of different oil industries will help to ensure safer operation and contribute to achieving the overall goal of reducing accidents and protecting environment".

Highlighting the significance of safety in oil industry, he said, "Ensuring greater safety not only ensures the life and wellbeing of workers but also safeguards the environment, communities and Industry's reputation.

He further said that the greater focus of safety also helps in protecting human lives; preserving health and well-being; preventing environmental damage, mitigating financial losses, safeguarding reputation and public trust, compliance to the regulations; foster positive safety culture; enhancing employee morale and productivity and ensuring Business Continuity.

Rajni Singh
Dean (Corporate Communications)